In 2004, the Bayliner Cierra, pictured below, was stolen from Lynnwood Marina in North Vancouver. Shortly after the theft, investigators with the West Vancouver Police obtained information regarding the vessel and the new altered HIN. The investigation led to the Nanaimo area but then went cold. The vessel was subsequently added to Stolen Boats Canada. On September 18th 2009 Stolen Boats Canada received information that the stolen vessel was in Nanaimo Harbour. A concerted effort involving the RCMP West Coast Marine Squad, RCMP Gabriola Island, RCMP North Vancouver and the Vancouver Police Marine Unit, resulted in the vessel being located and identified as that stolen in 2004 from Lynnwood Marina.
