ABANDONED AND WRECKED VESSELS

Many communities struggle with the task of dealing with abandoned and wrecked vessels that may cause environmental and safety hazards to their waterways and foreshores. In many cases the vessel owners fail to take responsibility for their vessels. Organizations and responsible boat owners have some options for resolving this issue. It is recommended early action is taken to avoid cost and damage to the environment. Stolen Boats Canada is available to post, free of charge, any abandoned or wrecked vessels where your municipality or agency is attempting to identify an owner. For additional resolutions to this issue, please check out www.recyclemyboat.com .
